

Community Connections

IRWP provides life skills education and connects women to organizations and resources in the community to help improve their lives.

Medical

Help provide a woman the knowledge and language skills to make smart medical choices for her family.

$50

Often a visit to a doctor or clinic, instead of a visit to an emergency room, solves a medical situation. Your gift can provide materials focusing on medical terminology and information about the health system in the U.S., allowing students to make those important decisions for their families.

Legal Advice

Help a student receive assistance in legal matters.

$25

From immigration law to understanding their new rights as Americans, women need counsel in order to keep their families together and on the right track. Your gift allows a woman to connect with community resources for legal aid.

Employment

Help a student obtain employment.

$50

Volunteers help show students in need of employment how to search for positions and navigate paper and online job applications. Mock interviews can be conducted to assist students in securing a job, and volunteers help focus on vocabulary and other skills needed to be a successful employee.

Housing

Help a woman learn how to find safe and affordable housing.

$25

Finding the right place to raise a family in a new city can be difficult. Volunteers help explain how to find a good home, the rights of a renter, how to conduct business with landlords, purchasing a home, and the responsibilities of home ownership.

Public Transportation

Help increase a woman's independence through public transit education.

Many women are isolated by lack of transportation. Your gift will help them learn to navigate the bus and metro systems available and increase their independence.
